Rebar is a steel rod that can impale people if they were to fall onto it. In the building trades there is a cap that is used to prevent people from being impaled. Let me know if you have any questions but I want to protect the public from accidents related to the use of steel bars used to support political signs. | SER0059783 | Service Request - Rental Property IssuesSER0059783 | The property owner's installed mini-split is not operational. See OPEN MAINTENANCE REQUEST STARTED JUNE 22, 2024. From June 22, 2024, to August 1, 2024, we have had 33 days without air conditioning (this winter, the same unit that also provides heat did not work for long periods, so long that the landlord supplied space heaters). A supposed fix (partial?) was done on July 9 2024 and there was some cool air until July 19 2024 when the system again shut down. This affects all the units from floor 6 down in the 'East Tower' which is the 4 units on each floor - the two end units (opposite each other) and the two units next to them (opposite each other). Air conditioning and heat are included in my rent. Due to the record high temperatures beginning July 23, 2024, and my susceptibility to heat (age-related, I am 69), I was forced to purchase a portable air conditioning unit. Even with my portable air conditioning unit running the inside temperature at 4:48 am is 86 degrees while the outdoor temperature is 64. As the day advances it becomes very hot even sitting directly in front of the portable air conditioning unit.
